It seems that a number gentlemen were summoned as a special jury in a civil case, and applied to be county court for payment of their ses, but were refused the same. Thereupon they filed, through their attorney, Mr. O. Yerger, a petition for peremptory mandamus to compel the county court to pay the same. Upon agreement as to the facts in the case, the matter was ruled upon by Judge Heiskeil, and appealed by the county attorney, Mr. M'Dowell, to the court of arbi ration, in order to have the question fully determined. The county is held liable, and a peremptory writ of mandamus will issue.

The Theater. Last night the interesting "Jack and Jill" pantomime troupe made its debut at the Theater to a large and appreciative audience. Anything like a descrip-tion worthy of the rare merits and attractive features of this excellent entertainment would require at least a colend the entertainment was characterized by comic wonders, sensational inerest and novel art, such as would deight and afford amusement to the mos cultivated and intelligent. It is a great attraction, and every one in Memphis should see "Jack and Jill." They justly lay claim to originality in the character and quality of their pantomimic tricks, and those who once see "Jack and Jill" will wish to see it again. We agree with a Cincinnati paper when it says of the Jee "Jack and Jill:" "The tricks are all new and laughable, the specialties are all fresh, and there is not an improper gesture in the whole performance. THE NEW CHARTER. The following report was made by the ommittee upon the new charter:

To the General Council: Your committee appointed with the city attorney to consider the new charter and our legislative duties under it, respectfully report as follows: First—It is scarcely necessary to say that since the creation of the legislature of a new charter and the repeal of the same act of the old charter, we have had no charter except the new, and under it we have since acted, and must, of course, in future be governed.

Second—Under the new charter all offices and officers under the old charter are either ipso facto abelished or may be abolished, or salaries reduced by the present general council. The present mayor and general council are the only officers expressly retained, and who hold until the next municipal election in January.

Third—It is within the power, and perhaps it is imperative or mandatory pon the present general council to elect the five fire and police commissioners. The commissioners are elected by the general council without nomination by the mayor; all other officers are to be cominated by and with the consent of the general council as heretofore. Fourth - The assessment already made by the city for 1875 remains, and s not affected by the general assessment set of the legislature. The result is that we have a right, and it is our duty at once to prepare our budget and apportionment under the present assessment, and make appropriations accord-

The special committee to confer with the board of health made its report, as given in the proceedings of the board of idermen, the action of which was concurred in on motion of Councilman

DEAR SIR-I notice in the morning papers of the twentieth instant that the graves of the Confederate dead in Eimwood are to be decorated on the twentysecond day of May. Permit me to say, that meeting your approval, I would wish to see in the procession on that day the "Invincible fire company, No. 5, and I have no doubt that the members thereof would be pleased to do so. It is this organization, that now serves as a link between the present and the past, that gave an entire company to the One Hundred and Fifty-fourth Senior regiment, the ever undaunted old "Crockett Rangers," headed by the gallant Marsh Patrick. He and many of s men are now resting their last rest neath the shades of Elmwood. While t would be a pleasure for the survivors a show respect to the departed, it would indeed be a pleasure deeply mingled with sadness. If the above meet your approval I shall present it at the next regular meeting of the company.

D. SOLARI, President. The above communication was cordially received, and the organization invited to join in the procession.
